FUTA CELEBRATES FUWAPE AT 60

Staff, students and friends of the Federal University of Technology Akure (FUTA) rolled out the drums to celebrate the Vice-Chancellor, Professor Joseph Adeola Fuwape, who turned 60 ON Saturday November 11, 2017. In a special service to mark the occasion held at the University's Chapel, the guest minister Rev. Tayo Adedeji, of the New Covenant Baptist Church, Oba Ile in his homily said, the Lord is always good and no matter the many trials of the righteous they will always come out victorious. Taking his text from Psalms 34, he said God is good and no earthly circumstances can change that fact. The Cleric said God's promise of protection to his children is a pointer to his goodness.

He pointed out that in order for Christians to experience all round victory, their lives must be firmly rooted in Christ. Giving his testimony, Professor Fuwape chronicled his life experiences, acknowledging the power and grace of God which he said helped him to surmount every hurdle he encountered. He said he owed every achievement in his life to divine providence. He appreciated family, friends and Christian fellowships for their prayers and support through the years. Giving the vote of thanks, wife of the celebrant, Professor Ibiyinka Fuwape, said 'God has made all things beautiful in His time. Our sufficiency has always been of God, it has been God all the way'. She appreciated all for their show of support and wished everyone success in their endeavours. Dignitaries who graced the occasion include, Mr. Alowoye Fakunle [SAN], Professor Dele Omitoyin, President, Ibadan Varsity Christian Union Alumni Fellowship (IVCUAF), Principal Officers, Directors, Heads of Units, staff, students and friends of the University and staff of Michael and Cecilia Ibru University, Delta State.
